

Abbotsford Family Lawyers

Abbotsford Family Lawyers - Our family law practitioners help clients going through the breakdown of a marriage or common-law relationship with services and advice related to divorce, business valuation, prenuptial agreements, and various legal problems. When marital-type relationships falter, clients need sound advice and assistance with respect to agreements governing their personal and business assets.

To be able to lessen the resulting disruptions and to reduce costs for our clients, we work to solve the various problems utilizing a combination of common sense and resourcefulness. Alternate dispute resolutions or direct negotiation are normally adequate to solve family issues. Nonetheless, when suitable, family law problems can proceed to court.

Divorce Settlements

To be able to help our clients in obtaining satisfactory settlements, we have family law professionals. Problems of spousal support and property division that typically accompany a divorce is handled by our several knowledgeable family law lawyers. The law governing spousal support is always evolving and complex. Clients depend on skilled legal assistance in this area in order to protect their interests. Increasingly, separation and cohabitation agreements are subject to variation and review in the courts.

Business Valuations

Sometimes divorce proceedings would usually consist of business holdings requiring lots of key assets which have to be divided. Provide a proper evaluation of the assets is important for an appropriate disposition, for the purpose of dividing these assets. Our family law company works with the right professionals to ensure the proper valuation of clients' business holdings.

Prenuptial Agreements

Several clients wish to opt for a prenuptial agreement in order to maintain their premarital assets just in case their marriage happens to fail. Our family law practitioners offer recommendation about and structure prenuptial agreements.

Estate Litigation

The defense of challenges to family trusts are a crucial part of our family law practice. Divorce proceedings can put family trust assets at risk. Estate litigators act to protect and preserve family trust assets when a marriage dissolves.

Mobility Rights

The rights of parents to mobility and access can be compromised following the dissolution of a marriage. Matters often relate to the parent's ability to relocate to a different country, city or province along with a child of the marriage. Family law works to make sure that the client's rights are considered and protected.