

Divorce Lawyer Abbotsford

Divorce Lawyer Abbotsford - It is really simple to get overwhelmed when handling separation or divorce. The emotional burden and stress caused by handling the division of property and potential child/spousal support and access makes it a very traumatic event. As the decisions made during this time can affect the rest of your life, it is sensible to have an unbiased party present who can make certain you are provided as much information as possible regarding the consequences of your choices.

There are several ways to resolve family issues, including negotiation, collaborative family law, the Court process and mediation.

Our company believes that any marital issues must be resolved outside the courtroom. This saves money and is probably the most effective way. A written, fair agreement can be reached by our skilled lawyers via negotiation.

We can provide you with experienced and knowledgeable representation if for any reason you cannot avoid going to court.

Throughout "Collaborative Family Law", each spouse hires a lawyer especially trained in collaborative law. Each party and their lawyer agrees that they would not go to court and sign a contract saying they will attempt and settle the issues through negotiation. Nearly all of the work is spent with both parties and their lawyers present and negotiating between themselves.

Clinical Counselors or Registered Psychologists could be involved in the procedures, depending upon the requirements of the family. Should the case require it, we also encourage using a child specialist to assist arrange a parenting plan in addition to assisting with any issues regarding the mental well being of the children.

Collaborative family law, when undergoing divorce, that allows the parties to come to their own resolutions. We provide professionals to help make certain that the separation goes as smooth as possible, as well as in order to help handle the extreme emotional feelings experienced throughout the process.