

Real Estate Law Abbotsford

Real Estate Law Abbotsford - Previous to embarking on a real estate project, it is essential that you consider all factors as there are some provincial jurisdictions and areas of law which should be covered to be able to achieve your final goals. Knowledgeable legal counsel, with strong connections in the trade, is important to creating an outcome with a minimum of complications.

In order to make sure that all of our clients requirements are met, our company has specialized sub-groups in financing, condominium development and sales, property development and leasing, as well as dispositions and acquisitions. Our goal is to offer suggestion that would enable our clients visions to prosper. Some of the services we provide are help in obtaining an extensive real estate portfolio, solving environmental issues, and creating assembly deals for a large pension fund.

We have a variety of clients in both the public and private sector. They represent all parts of real estate, from entrepreneurs, tenants and owners to developers, purchasers, sellers, and investors. Our firm would be happy to represent you in whichever part of real estate law.