

Disability Lawyers Abbotsford

Disability Lawyers Abbotsford - Our company provides a free session for individuals whose application has been rejected for Long Term Disability Benefits. If you still can not return to work and your benefits were paid and after that terminated, a lawyer could usually reinstate them. It is also probable to force the insurance company to pay extra-contractual damages if they have denied or withheld your benefits.

Fibromyalgia, chronic pain syndrome and depression are becoming more and more common and, as such, disability claims based on these problems are increasing. Nonetheless, these claims are normally rejected by the insurance companies because of their "invisible" nature and the disabled normally just give up. Through persistence it is likely for individuals to get the benefits they really deserve.
