

Family Law Lawyers Abbotsford

Family Law Lawyers Abbotsford - For those people have recently separated, our firm specializes in the handling of the difficult financial issues which may take place. Other family concerns which our lawyers can help advise with comprise property division, divorce, adoption, access, child and adult guardianship, estate and trust issues as well as child and spousal support. We even could help create asset protection agreement, marriage agreements, separation agreements and co-habitation agreements.

We tailor our services to reflect our client's particular requirements. Our lawyers have sufficient skill both inside and outside the court room to make certain that our clients can be represented fairly and efficiently. In addition to mediation, negotiation and litigation, our company also provides collaborative law approach. This is a somewhat new method that enables family lawyers and various professionals, like financial advisors, to come to a resolution without going to court.