

Patent Lawyers Abbotsford

Patent Lawyers Abbotsford - Our teams of Intellectual Property lawyers are recognized for its innovation and excellence in the several services related to enforcement, acquisition and enforcement of intellectual property assets.

Over ninety professionals make up our team, with extensive knowledge in the three service lines: Business, Prosecution, and Litigation. Our intellectual property practice is ranked amongst the very best within the nation. Our intellectual property team has expertise in the fields of trade-marks, patents, designs, trade secrets and copyrights. Our litigators are among the very best in the planet.

Our teams skill extends into the fields of due diligence, portfolio analysis, audits and other connected services which are part of corporate transactions and financing. We are professionals in the assessment of technology for intellectual property protection, consisting of methods for portfolio development involving procurement of rights, licensing and commercialization techniques, and offensive and defensive litigation.

Also in our practice, with our intellectual property lawyers, we have patent and trade-mark agents, and technical consultants. Our professionals have strong backgrounds in the engineering and scientific sectors. In science the team has expertise in biotechnology, biomechanics, biochemistry, food science, chemistry, endocrinology, genetics, immunology, life sciences, pharmacology, microbiology, molecular/cellular biology, physiology, neuropsychology, physics, organic chemistry, toxicology and neurophysiology. In engineering disciplines, team members excel in the subsequent areas: biomedical, chemical, aerospace, computer science, industrial, civil, metallurgy, electrical, mechanical and material science.